Teaching & Learning is pleased to announce that access to Reading Plus, an adaptive reading program used to improve the reading levels of students across the District, is being extended to parents through Reading Plus's Parent Academy Program. Whether parents want to increase their own reading proficiency, engage in friendly competition with their student(s), or just become more familiar with the Reading Plus platform in order to better support and monitor their student(s), access to Reading Plus for parents provides an opportunity for schools to more authentically engage parents in usage of Reading Plus and to help parents better understand the way this program can benefit their student(s).

In order for parents to receive their own Reading Plus user account and start using the program, they should send an email to info@goreadingplus.com with their first name, last name, and the name of the school their student attends. Reading Plus will reply with an email containing login information for the new parent account, along with a short overview to get started. If parents have questions regarding this opportunity, they can address those to Reading Plus via email at info@goreadingplus.com or via phone at 305-598-9111.
